DOORWAYS Interfaith Housing works to end homelessness for more than 2,000 men, women, and children affected by HIV/AIDS. Its focus is driven by the research that shows that housing is healthcare in both assisting those already infected with HIV and in prevention of the transmission of this life-threatening virus. Cohen’s mother, Evelyn Cohen, helped found DOORWAYS and Cohen himself has served as Master of Ceremonies for DOORWAYS’ annual RED gala in 2009 (2015 info at www.doorwaysRED.org). “DOORWAYS is so thankful to Andy for shining a spotlight on our efforts to improve health and housing for people living with HIV/AIDS,” Opal M. Jones, DOORWAYS President and CEO said. “We will all be crowded around the TV, cheering him on, for sure.”

DOORWAYS is an interfaith non-profit organization that provides housing and related supportive services to improve quality of life and health outcomes for people affected by HIV/AIDS. Through direct service delivery and the efforts of identified program partners, DOORWAYS’ programs and services annually benefit 1,000 households living with HIV/AIDS in the 15-county St. Louis metropolitan area, 62 under-served counties in outstate Missouri, and another 55 under-served counties in outstate Illinois.
